Using the Conferencing Feature

On the Homepage click on Conferencing. This will take you to a page like this:

The first thing to do is to add a topic. You could try 'Using this Site', as it will enable you to draw on students' experiences and perhaps help you to better utilise this facility to help them.

Click on [Add New Topic] and a window like this on will appear.

Type in your topic and then click on the Add Topic button. You should then get a widow like the one below.
You'll now need to write a subject line and the text of the message into the field. Once you've done that click on the Post New Message button and you should see the screen below.

This should be your message. It's a good idea after doing this to click on Conferencing again, just to check that it can be accessed by your students too. This is what you will see.

Click on the title of the message, Using This Site, and make sure that it opens.

© Nik Peachey | Learning Technology Consultant, Trainer, Content Designer
nik.peachey@mac.com
http://nikpeachey.blogspot.com/